02

Leadership & Teamwork Expert

Although he was the youngest and least experienced skipper in the race, his team won it in convincing fashion.

They didn't win because he was the best sailor or strategist, but because they created the most collaborative & united on-board culture, with a compelling vision, strong values and a continuous-improvement mindset.

An Inclusive Hybrid Experience

Brendan embraces broadcast tech

Brendan works with your tech team to ensure all his image and video content is delivered impactfully to the off-site audience, so they feel the same immersion as those in the room.

Brendan keeps 100% engagement

Brendan knows conference delegates have often reached 'information saturation point' by the time he speaks, so he needs to bring big energy to captivate the room and keep online delegates from clicking-away.

A valuable resource for teams in rapidly changing environments
